a London-based cashmere lifestyle brand

The guest of the 10th Moontalk is Oyuna Tserendorj, co-founder of OYUNA. This London-based cashmere lifestyle brand, founded in 2002 with David Bernasconi, draws inspiration from Mongolian heritage. Known for its Home and Womenswear Collections, OYUNA connects nomads and customers through a cooperative model, supporting nomads and preserving their land, aiming to make „made in Mongolia“ synonymous with the highest quality.

Oyuna Tserendorj will explore – in dialogue with Susanne Barta, slow fashion blogger on franzmagazine – some themes dear to her vision and work such as sustainability and responsibility in the fashion industry. The talk will be held in English.
